1.2 Introduction

The Canteen Stores Department (CSD), is a Government of India CSD under Ministry of Defence, provides a range of quality branded and unbranded products from shoe brushes to microwave ovens and cooking oil to luxury cars. The portfolio has grown from just a few items of daily use in 1948 (when the CSD was created) to over four thousand products today. Information on all these products and brands is available on this web site through a "know-all" Search Engine for the benefit of the consumer.

CSD like other chains has adopted best trade practices in all aspects of its operations but what distinguishes the CSD from any and all other chains is that it is not driven by the profit motive.

The CSD works closely with more than 500 suppliers across the country for supply of the range of products. They are represented by leading multinationals, large Indian companies and many small manufacturers, including start-ups of ex-servicemen. The CSD has 34 depots strategically located across India. This is the core strength of the CSD, which puts its operation in close proximity to the thousands of Unit Run Canteens it has mandated to serve.

The "power centre" of CSD is Adelphi, a six storey structure in the commercial and financial centre of Mumbai alongside the famous Churchgate Station. Adelphi houses the office of the Chairman Board of Administration and General Manager of CSD and all leading functional CSDs including:
